Break Traditions

What does your family do for break? Do you host a big gathering at your house? Do you travel to another state to visit grandparents? Is your break a small get-together, or is the house packed with friends and family? Who does the cooking? Does your family have traditions, such as playing games, watching football, or putting puzzles together? Write about how you spend break, describing the sights, sounds, flavors, and smells of the day.

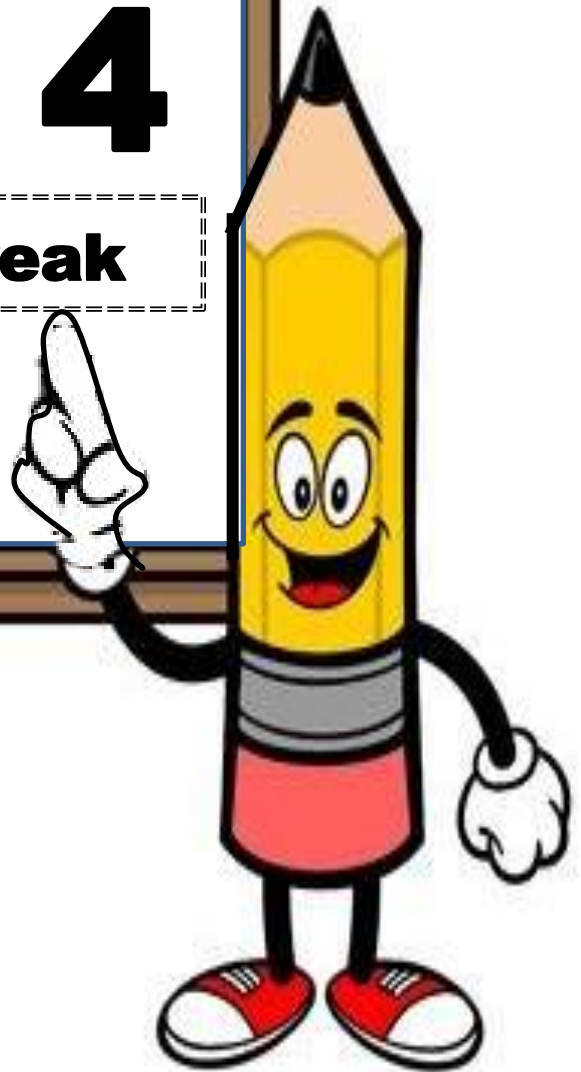

Use this Word Bank if you need help thinking of strong, descriptive words.

Leaf Pile Adventure

After dinner, you and your cousin decide to explore the neighborhood. At the end of the street, you notice a giant pile of leaves. Together, you make a running start and leap right into the middle of the pile! Suddenly, the ground opens up beneath you, and you find yourselves sliding down a steep slide. Write a story about what happens when you land at the bottom of the slide. Where are you? Include three different things that happen on your adventure, and conclude your story by telling how you and your cousin get back home.
