Around the World

by Paula Morrow

- 1 “No one but a man can do this,” the business manager of the World, a New-York newspaper, said to the young woman. The year was 1888. A popular book at the time told about a character who traveled around the world in 80 days. Now Nellie Bly, a young reporter for the newspaper, wanted to do it in real life.
- 2 “Very well,” said Nellie. “Start the man, and I’ll start the same day for some other newspaper and beat him.”
- 3 In those days it was very unusual for a woman to travel alone. But Nellie Bly was an unusual woman. Her real name was Elizabeth Jane Cochran. When she was 20, she wrote a fiery letter to the editor of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. The editor was so impressed with her letter that he offered her a job as a writer.
- 4 It wasn’t considered “proper” to use a woman’s name in a newspaper. So the editor signed Elizabeth’s work Nellie Bly, a name from a popular song.
- 5 Back then, women were only supposed to write about things considered to be “women’s topics,” such as fashion and society. But Nellie had other ideas. She reported on issues that were important, even controversial. Newspaper readers were fascinated—but they didn’t believe that Nellie Bly was really a woman. They thought men were writing the articles!

controversial = a topic that causes an argument

GO ON

- 6 After Nellie threatened to make the trip for another newspaper, her editor gave in and allowed her to do it for the World. One year after asking to do the trip, Nellie set out. Traveling east across the Atlantic, Nellie took just one bag in order to move quickly. As she traveled, she wrote. She telegraphed her articles about people and places to the newspaper. Schoolchildren followed her route across Europe and Asia. Geography became a national fad as readers tracked her around the world.

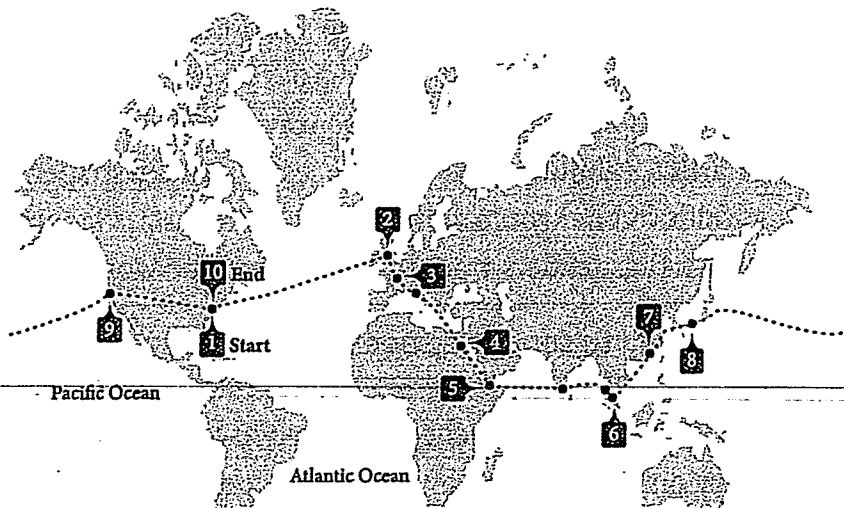

telegraphed = a way to send messages to a faraway place

- 7 On day 68 of her trip, Nellie reached San Francisco. Quickly, she dashed across the country on a train hired by her newspaper. She reached New York in 4½ days.
- 8 She met her challenge! Along the way, every train stop was a “maze of happy greetings, happy wishes, congratulating telegrams, fruit, flowers, loud cheers, wild hurrahs, rapid hand-shaking,” she wrote. While traveling through France, Nellie was thrilled to meet Jules Verne, author of the book that inspired her trip, Around the World in 80 Days.
- 9 Nellie Bly beat the 80-day goal. She also invented a new style of journalism. She reported to her readers what she saw, thought, and felt during her adventure. She also proved that a woman is as competent and resourceful as a man. Her journey around the world was a journey toward equal opportunity for both women and men.

competent = capable resourceful = skilled at solving problems

Mouse Deer and the Tigers

an Indonesian folktale retold by Marilyn Bolchunos

1 King Tiger thought he was the greatest tiger in the world. While I do not know if that was true, he was certainly the greediest. One day he said to himself, "I wonder if there is tasty food nearby on the Island of Borneo."

2 He called three of his strongest tigers and said to them, "I have a job for you. You must swim to Borneo and ask their tiger king for food. Tell them the King of All Tigers demands it. If they don't agree, we will attack."

3 The King pulled out one of his large whiskers. "Show him this and he will see what kind of tiger he is dealing with."

4 The three tigers swam over to Borneo, roaring all the way. Now, there were no tigers on Borneo, but all the animals hid when they heard the strange sounds and splashes. All except for Mouse Deer. He didn't hear them coming because he was busy eating his lunch of tender grass. Suddenly he looked up and saw three pairs of golden eyes staring at him.

5 "Brave little morsel, isn't he?" said one of the tigers. "We have a message for your tiger king. Where is he?"

6 Mouse Deer thought, We have no tiger king. We have no tigers. But if I tell them that, I will be lunch for these tigers. I must think fast or, or . . . I will be lunch for these tigers.

7 He thought fast.

8 “I can take your message to our tiger king,” he said. “But you look tired. Rest in the shade, and I will get him.”

9 “Good idea,” said the biggest tiger. “Tell him that he must give us food, or we will attack. Show him King Tiger’s whisker.”

10 The whisker was so big it made Mouse Deer tremble. But he bravely hurried away with it in his mouth.

11 If I promise them food, they may eat me, he thought. What should I do?

12 He bounded on. Finally he had an idea. He found his friend Porcupine. “Friend, the King of All Tigers wants to attack Borneo,” he said. “He says we won’t be able to fight him. Would you please let me have one of your quills?”

quill = a thick hair with a sharp point

13 “Gladly,” said Porcupine.

14 Mouse Deer waited awhile so that the tigers would think he had traveled far. When he came back they said, “Well?”

15 “O, Great Tigers,” said Mouse Deer, “when I reached our king he was sharpening his claws between two mountains. I gave him your message. He said, ‘Good. It is too quiet around here. I’d be happy to fight that tiger. Send him over.’ Then he pulled out one of his whiskers for you to give your king.”

16 The tigers were astonished. They had never seen a whisker as big and thick as that. They turned and left for their long swim back.

17 Mouse Deer pranced off on his tiny hoofs.

18 As soon as the tigers reached their island, they went to the King of All Tigers.

19 “What took you so long?” he roared.

- 20 "Well," one tiger said, "the King of Borneo looks forward to fighting the King of All Tigers. He sends his whisker."
- 21 The King stared at it for a while. Then he spoke, "I have been thinking while you were gone. We should demand food from the Island of the Elephants instead of the Island of Borneo."
- 22 And that is why, even today, there are no tigers on Borneo. There are plenty of mouse deer, but no tigers.

What does the word “demand” mean as it is used in paragraphs 2 and 21?

- A to correct
 - B to look for
 - C to work on
 - D to insist

20

What does the reader know in paragraphs 6 through 8 that the tigers do not know?

- A King Tiger wants to take food from the Island of Borneo.
- B The Island of Borneo has no tiger king.
- C Mouse Deer is afraid of King Tiger’s whisker.
- D The whisker from Mouse Deer is not from a tiger.

21

Paragraph 15 supports a theme of the story by showing that Mouse Deer

- A honors the tigers
- B is clever and brave
- C is happy to be telling lies
- D finds his king

22 In paragraph 17, the phrase “pranced off” shows that Mouse Deer feels

- A eager to run far away from the tigers
 - B satisfied with how things went with the tigers
 - C worried that the tigers will return with their king
 - D surprised to see that the tigers could swim

23 Which sentence best describes how Mouse Deer causes the event in paragraph 21?

- A He sees three tigers looking at him.
- B He carries King Tiger’s whisker in his mouth.
- C He asks Porcupine for one of his quills.
- D He waits so the tigers will think he went far.

24 What do the details in paragraph 21 suggest about King Tiger?

- A He wants to avoid showing that he is scared.
- B He believes there is more food on a different island.
- C He knows that it is important to plan ahead.
- D He thinks he is the greatest tiger in the world.

Meet Hannah Wynne: Teen Storyteller

by Kathiann M. Kowalski

- 1 Like most kids, Hannah Wynne has always loved hearing stories. But Hannah doesn't just listen. At age 18, Hannah is already a professional storyteller.
- 2 As a little girl, Hannah told stories to family members in Valley City, Ohio. Later, she shared stories with friends during school recess. "I loved giving oral book reports," adds Hannah. Often Hannah dressed as a book character to tell her books' stories to the class.
- 3 When Hannah was 15, a professional storyteller named Janelle Reardon performed at a cousin's birthday party. Hannah knew then that she wanted to become a storyteller, too. Soon afterward, Janelle began coaching Hannah. Then Hannah began performing.
- 4 "All my stories right now are personal stories," says Hannah. "Most of them are funny." Most of Hannah's stories are about eight minutes long. And most come from things that happened when Hannah was around 6 years old. But the stories aren't just memories, she says. "Our lives aren't like movies or books. We're not moving toward one goal."
- 5 Instead, starting with real events, Hannah makes up stories with a beginning, middle, and end. Even her funny stories often have a lesson. In "The Revenge of Dr. Seuss," young Hannah wanted to hear Fox in Socks over and over. But her mom was tired of that book. She had already read it many times for Hannah's older brother and sisters.
- 6 Hannah told that story at the National Youth Storytelling Showcase in Pigeon Forge, Tennessee, in 2007. With it, she won the title of High School Division Torchbearer. Hannah also met other young storytellers from across the nation. “The oldest was 18, and the youngest was 7 that year,” says Hannah. “Everyone was fantastic. And I learned so much from everyone.”

7 Today, Hannah tells stories at schools, libraries, recreation centers, and storytelling festivals. After college, she hopes to be a professional writer and continue storytelling.

8 Hannah especially loves when people laugh along with her. Her stories often remind people about events in their own lives. At its heart, storytelling is about sharing a story or an experience and connecting with the listeners. “The best way to tell people what storytelling is,” Hannah says, “is to tell them a story.”

Reaching for the Top

by Kassandra Radomski

- 1 For the past six years, Jordan Romero has been chasing a dream. That dream has taken him to the top of the world's highest mountains. The dream came true when the California teenager stepped onto the peak of Mount Vinson Massif in Antarctica.
- 2 On that day—December 24, 2011—Jordan became the youngest person to have climbed the tallest mountain on each of the seven continents. These mountains are known as the “seven summits.” (A summit or peak is the highest point of a mountain.)
- 3 It all began when Jordan was 9 years old. He became fascinated by a school mural that showed the seven summits. Jordan had never climbed a mountain before. But he told his dad that he wanted to climb them ALL!
- 4 His dad, an experienced mountaineer, was very supportive. In fact, Jordan's dad and stepmom trained him in top-level mountaineering and climbed every mountain with him. As part of “Team Jordan,” they also became the first family to climb the seven summits together.
- 5 Training to climb the highest mountains in the world involves a lot of hard work. But Jordan has always been very physically active—it's just the way he lives. Still, there were times when he thought, “Yeah, I want to be done.”
- 6 But he refused to give up. When others thought he was too young to climb Mount Everest, the world's highest mountain, he just became more determined. He recalls thinking at the time, “All you naysayers, I'll show you.” He sure did. When he was 13, he became the youngest person to scale Mount Everest.
